

GAINING A CLEAR VIEW OF YOUR IT ASSET PERFORMANCE

A primary concern for any business owner is the performance of their technology investment and the guardianship of their customer and business data from loss and increasing, sophisticated external threats to security.

OryxAlign deliver comprehensive infrastructure efficiency auditing which focus on performance, security & stability across the entire technology platform.

SERVICE AT A GLANCE

The objective of an OryxAlign technology efficiency audit is to find out how efficiently your current IT systems are performing and identify any problems which may be affecting performance. Our consultants run the audit with the aid of software applications which combined with extensive industry experience allow them to provide a comprehensive report on the current state of the infrastructure along with recommendations for improvement.

In a growing number of industries, businesses are under increasing pressure to comply with regulations mandating data security and network integrity. This along with usual strains and under-performance of aged and organically grown infrastructure is putting businesses at great risk.

We have a team of accredited consultants who are trained to investigate and report on performance and infrastructure inefficiencies in order to improve the overall availability of IT assets and in turn the productivity of the business. Through the deployment of world class tools and applications we provide comprehensive reporting on inefficiencies and vulnerabilities against pre-defined configuration baselines along with the required remedial actions. Our infrastructure efficiency audits deliver a comprehensive report covering the following key areas.

- Internal & external network security
- Data backup & protection
- Data leakage prevention
- Infrastructure performance
- Software licence compliance
- Infrastructure capacity & limitations
- ITDR & Business Continuity
- LAN & WAN review & optimisation

KEY BENEFITS

- Visibility of your IT infrastructure design in a simple to understand format
- Detailed information regarding network performance and efficiency.
- Optimising network security & compliance where needed in order to protect data.
- The creation of a technology roadmap to accommodate business growth with a predicted technology investment.
- Increased user productivity & business profitability

Efficiency one of the main components of management and the most long-standing criteria in the performance improvement of an organisation.

In order for an organisation to be highly productive and profitable it needs to be both effective and efficient in its approach to technology and if used correctly within an organisation it will expand an employee's capability and productivity which directly relates to employee happiness within the work place.

OryxAlign's technology efficiency audits provide a clear, concise view of an organisations entire IT infrastructure, determining what is required to increase performance and to enhance the efficiency, while reducing long term costs where ever possible.
